District and union do not reach agreement; Formal offers exchanged, union to take time to review district's offer

After a full day with a federal mediator, District 6 and the Greeley Education Association have not yet reached an agreement on a contract for teachers. At the end of the mediated negotiations today, both sides exchanged written offers. The Association agreed to review the district's offer and make a decision by Tuesday, October 6.

In its written offer to GEA, District 6 has offered:

- To fully pay the increased cost of teachers' contribution to the state retirement system (PERA)
- To fully pay the increased cost of teachers' health, dental and vision insurance
- To honor educational advancement on the salary schedule for teachers who continue their professional development and advanced training
- To increase per-hour pay for non-contract work to $25 per hour (currently is $18)
